

OVERRATED

*A parody of “Complicated,” recorded by Avril Lavigne
(1 Corinthians 13:2)*

"OVERRATED" is a parody of the song "Complicated" by Avril Lavigne, which speaks of a person who has made a simple relationship complicated. Likewise, some will make simple Christian truth complicated. And making things complicated undermines the communication of God's truth.

Much of modern Christian academia has succumbed to the secularists who consider complexity to be a necessary component of truth (cf. 2 Cor. 11:3). Although there is some need to use certain terms to communicate accurately, our effort must be to communicate both correctly and clearly to all. Rejecting the straight-forward teaching of the Scripture in favor of the wrangling about words is indeed overrated.
