

She's So Pretty

*A parody of "I Feel Pretty" from the musical "West Side Story"
(1 Peter 3:3-4)*

The song "I Feel Pretty" depicts a young woman, Maria, singing to her friends about her beauty. The parody, "She's So Pretty" looks at this from the other side of the fence. Those who are attractive to the world can be the focus of envy from their peers. This envy not only misguided places great value on what is fleeting, it depreciates the truth that each one is made in the image of God. Rather than being thankful to God for creating us, we often grumble that He did not make us like another. This parody has a message of humility to those who feel pretty and to those who suffer from petty jealousy.
